WHILE THE WEATHER IS FINE

Rebel Love Letter.—The following we find in the New York Evening Post. It was found by Lieutenant Sherman's brig at Hilton Head:

"Dear Sir: I am determined not to write a word if she can make her ashful sweet. I will take sufficient courage to tell her the next time. If she would but make the first advances and tell him that she loves him better than tongue can tell, I would not be under the necessity of telling him that she loves him better than tongue can tell. But I cannot be very brave. But I will try.

Dear sir: As with pleasure I embrace the present time to address you on a matter of importance to me, I hope that I shall not be deemed impertinent in so doing. I have long entertained a very high opinion of you, and have been very desirous of your acquaintance, but have never before ventured to comply my inclination, being ignorant of success. But long since, I have met with the happy situation of love. I cannot rest easy until I could make my love known to you in some way, and this being my only plan as you would not ask me at once, I could tell you I picked in O Franklin O Franklin I love you well. I love better than tongue can tell, and when I am asleep I am dreaming about you; when I am awake I take no rest. O pity young man if you are bashful try to be a little bold. Young men are more preferable to fair ladies than silver or gold. Take courage, whilst young you fair better before you get so old. Round is the ring that has no end, so is my love to you dear. Friend the rose is red, the violet blue, my love to you is forever true, while you are so pretty and I am so fair I can't see why you stand back so far in the rare. Dear sir, remove my distresses I implore by speedy Answer if possible by the next mail, this is from me poor thing broken hearted, just like you might expect.

Write soon my dove and dearest love, my pen is bad, (if I may so call you) my ink is pale but my love to you will never fail. To Mr Franklin Clyburn.

Sharp Shooting.—A correspondent of the Boston Traveller gives the following account of a little battle of words in Baltimore: "Our officers and soldiers did not always behave courteously in silence, though they could not strike down their tormentors when these were women and children. Sometimes they answered such scoffs with fitting words. 'Are you a Massachusetts soldier?' said a woman elegantly dressed, doubtless deemed a lady in Baltimore. 'I am, madam,' was the courteous answer of the officer of our regiment thus addressed. 'Well, thank God, my husband is in the Southern army, ready to kill such hirelings as you.' 'Do you not miss him, madam?' said the officer. 'O yes I miss him a good deal.' 'Very well, madam, we are going South in a few days, and will try to find and bring him back here with his companions.' 'You ought to have seen how angry she was!' 'You are from that miserable Boston, I suppose,' she said, 'where there is nothing but mob law, and they burned down the Ursuline Convent—the Puritan bigots!' 'Some such thing did happen in Charlestown, many years ago, which I was a boy,' said the officer, 'at least I have heard so, and I am very sorry for it. But can you tell me what street that is?' 'Pratt street,' was the unsuspecting reply. 'What happened there, madam, on the nineteenth of April, this very year?' He got no answer from the angry secessionist, but the loud shout which went up from the Union bystanders, who generally are of the humbler order, atoned for her silence. People that live in glass houses had better not throw stones. The same officer, riding in a chaise with a gentleman who, to his surprise, showed secession proclivities, but was courteous in their demonstration, was told by the gentleman that the horse which was drawing them was called 'Jeff Davis,' in honor of that distinguished rebel and asked if he 'did not object to driving such a horse.' 'Oh, no, sir,' was the instant reply 'to drive Jeff Davis is the very purpose of our coming South.' Our secession gentleman imitated his sister traitor in preserving a discreet silence."

The Taxing of Mining Claims

The unnatural Advertiser, of yesterday morning waxes indignant over the proposed taxing mining claims The proverb is true now as of old "A lying man will catch at a straw" The Advertiser has little sal fatuus out of which to manufacture articles that they have attempted to hamper the shadow and the face it to the cringing virtude of the hegeloid Secession But what staggering work have they made! The main intent of the article alluded to is to mislead and thereby prejudice the mind of miners against the Administration To gain this end they do not scruple to resort to the meanest falsehood and the most contemptible misrepresentation For the benefit of our readers we will reproduce a few of their deliberative falsehoods

It is declared that the object of this tax is to "make honest miners pay the expense of this abolition war" This is the No 1 The object of the tax is to assist in bringing traitors and assassins to justice, and to prove to the world that our nation is both able and willing to sustain the majesty of law No abolition war has ever been waged upon the South—but traitors in the South have attempted to disgrace the American flag by trampling it in the dust For the purpose of bringing these freebooters to justice, five hundred thousand swords have been drawn, and we will pledge our being that every honest miner will cheerfully pay his tax, and his heart's blood, too, if necessary, that the best government ever framed by man may be perpetuated But again

"In California, the far seeing democratic press warned the miners that the election of a republican President would bring with it, among other disasters, ruin to the miner But the abolition press, the John Brown howlers, and the whole horde of rotten hearted sectionalists, shouted 'humbug,' yelled 'demagogues,' and in tones of apparent sincerity, pronounced such an idea not only absurd and ridiculous, but one of the old tricks of the democracy The black organs grew virtuously indignant at the mere mention, 'tax the poor miner's humble occupation'"

Whence comes this "far seeing" prophecy? The authors were doubtless in league with Southern cut throats, and had determined in plunging our nation into an "unnatural" war In this they have succeeded But that success is only temporary Every dollar that the miner pays towards the support of our government will come back in four fold blessings on his head Is the miner to be supinely upon his back and allow nigger drivers, with what they please to call their chattel drive honest industry from the mines, and substitute lackey labor in its stead? Which is the best, to pay a light tax to support free labor and wholesome laws, with a guarantee of protection in our mining rights, or to be driven from our claims by a gang of slaves directed by their lawless masters? The paragraph quoted is a base misrepresentation of the object of the tax, and may be set down as falsehood No 2 Let us continue

"How, they cried, one and all, the Republican Administration would scorn to tax the miner's hard earned pittance; the Republican party are the friends of the white man, consequently, it is evident that such a proposition as the taxing of mining claims dwells only in the brain of some democratic demagogue"

We will leave the miners to determine whether they had rather submit to the payment of a temporary tax, or become a subject of a negro wench, sitting on the lap of Jeff Davis Yes, the republican party is the true friend of the white man.

To further its nefarious designs, the Advertiser refers to Caleb Smith, who says

"The mining lands of California and Oregon belong to the Government" and should not only be taxed, but be faintly shadows forth that it may also become necessary to sell such lands to sustain the Administration

To sustain the Administration! Falsehood No 3 The Advertiser is endeavoring by every shark to throw the responsibility from the doors of its "dear friends" in the South But again

"We predict truly if such a policy be carried out the American miner must turn his attention to some other avocation or else lose his rights bartered away from him to the Republican party itself or will have to hire out to a foreign master at starvation wages"

Falsehood No 4 This is not the result of taxation or sale of the lands The Advertiser must be aware of this fact But the expedient of taxation or sale is resorted to as it will be for the only reason that it is the most feasible plan of securing the rights and property and the life and liberty of miners against the ravages of slave propagandists "Treasonable Doctrines," the following quotation is deduced

And when is all this For the South Miners must be placed upon a equality with the white man, and that the Republican party may grow rich and fatten up upon the ruin of their country"

A willful and deliberate falsehood will we set down as No 5 Has the Advertiser friends and traitors to their country who object to the wholesome restraints and laws of our civilization—time perpetuated the Constitution of our country? If persons pure would have continued to smile upon our once happy land But again

"Taxation must be resorted to and Massachusetts and all New England directs a new source of revenue in the gold fields of Oregon, Washington Territory and California The Brigadier Generals Paymasters and contractors of the Puritan school, must be paid from the labor of the gold miner—the whole scheme is an outrage upon the people of this coast"

Still true to its old trade Deliberately lying to prejudice the minds of honest men and increase the stench that springs from the nostrils of the rotten hearted nigger lovers and Davis worshippers Again

"The citizens of California and Oregon were always opposed to the secret policy of the Republican party, they are opposed to the emancipation of the slaves they are opposed to this unnatural abolition war"

The only secret party is that of the Advertiser itself They are clamoring for a "peace" of the Union The republicans carried the last election which proves their opposition to emancipation If slaves are emancipated it will be done by the very hottest act of the South They have already proposed it to England The North will never engage in the work unless the brutality and obstinacy of the south drives them to the task

Speaking of Republicanism, the Advertiser tries its hand at prophecy

"We opine the day near at hand when the memory of this unconstitutional party will be honored by the hearty curses of every American citizen but especially by the maledictions of the Oregon miner"

That day will only come, when the names of Washington and Lincoln are placed by the sides of Arnold and Davis—as equals in infamy and crime Aye, how these spawning traitors long to

"Crook the pregnant hinges of the knee
That thrift might follow fawning"

What a hideous picture is presented by these fawning 'democrats'—wolves in sheep's clothing! They are 'stealing the livery of Heaven to serve the Devil with' They are robbing American freemen of their chartered rights, and throwing the stolen mantle on the back of the slave We 'opine' that the curses of honest miners, and "every other man," will heap infamy upon every living apologist of lying traitors Even their own children will learn to curse them with endless curses History will hand their names down to future ages as the meanest abortions that ever appeared in the form of man

There is not a more groveling secession sheet on the Pacific Coast than the Corvallis Union It out Davises old Davis himself In its issue of the 24th inst, we find the following

"If the Union is destroyed and destroyed it will be if European powers interfere as we are assured they will do—this country will be too hot to hold the intolerant war howlers. * * * Intolerant bigoted war howlers prepare to scud to Canada, or Victoria, for, like Arnold you will have no rest for the soles of your feet on this side of the line"—Corvallis Union

How much longer will the Government permit the Union sentiment of Oregon to be outraged by the circulation of this traitor sheet through its mails? Verily the government is long suffering We believe it but its time!

The party designing to explore a route for a road from Jacksonville to the Salmon river will leave Jacksonville before many days

Extracts from late Eastern Papers and Letters

PROJECTED MOVEMENTS AGAINST THE REBELS IN ARKANSAS AND TEXAS—A letter from Leavenworth, Kansas, dated 13th inst, says that an expedition is organizing there to operate against the rebels in Arkansas and Texas It is to embrace a force of twenty thousand men Gen Hunter will command the Grand Army and Gen Sherman will command the Western Department Gen Hunter will travel in military style to the United States army, to pull the Government from its foundation by reducing the rebellious States to submission Gen Hunter will cross the Mississippi river at Memphis, Tennessee, and march through Arkansas to Texas, where he will be joined by Gen Sherman from the Western Department Gen Hunter has already had a force under General Curtis in Arkansas, and has already established his military power in that State Gen Curtis has driven the rebels from Missouri into Arkansas, and has defeated them in every engagement Gen Hunter will have a large force under his command when he reaches Arkansas, and will be joined by Gen Curtis's forces, and will then march through Arkansas to Texas, where he will be joined by Gen Sherman from the Western Department Gen Hunter has already had a force under General Curtis in Arkansas, and has already established his military power in that State Gen Curtis has driven the rebels from Missouri into Arkansas, and has defeated them in every engagement

We shall soon have a large Union force made up of East Tennesseans

PARSON BROWNLOW.—A late letter from Louisville says "It seems Parson Brownlow was remanded to prison in Knoxville by the military authorities on the 17th ult—the very day the latter left there released him He had been released because the fifth of the Confederate Government was left without a place to put the United States officers Secretary Benjamin and Major Gen Cuttenden had given him this pledge Anyhow, he is still down Lock into jail the very hour he is found

We suppose Last Tennessee soon will in a fair way of being cleansed from rebels

The Advertiser mourneth

A State election is shortly expected to take place in Oregon and after the late democratic triumphs in Pennsylvania Illinois Ohio and Indiana it would seem to be the determination of leading republicans in Oregon to commence to get up a sufficient pressure of all the state journals

The 'democracy' of the Advertiser would stink in the nostrils of the most obscure citizen in either of the above named States The fact is, they are loyal to the back bone A few 'peace democrats' may be found but they usually find their way to Fort Warren

The secessionists are hunting for a candidate for Congress They cannot find a man who can be elected in favor of Union and Jeff Davis and Jeff Davis men "A man is known by the company he keeps"

We learn that a large Union force is about leaving their farms and going to the armies at the front Their places will be filled by [illegible]

A party of miners are getting up boats to make the trip from Portland to Lewiston—the boats, of course, to be transported over the Portages. These are to be sail boats. It will require some time to make the trip in this way.

Arrangements are being made for the erection of many buildings in this city the coming season. They will be wanted. The city population will be double with in a year.

The gentlemanly bearing of the numerous miners from California now in this city, is worthy of all praise. Good luck attend them, and may each man make his pile.

We witness a fine improvement opposite our office door—plank crossing to the post on the side of the street. Thank you, Mr Burrell.

The case supposed to have been small pox in this city turns out to be a mild case of varioloid. The disease has not spread.

Postmaster Davis has a free lot of seeds to distribute.

We know of parties who will take the Powder river Valley on the way to Salmon river. If they find the diggings on Powder river tolerably good, they will sojourn there.

The Corvallis Union says that this Government will be destroyed and the Union men will be glad to escape to Canada.

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction and easily kept in order, should make a TIGHT LOCK-STITCH alike on both sides of the material, and should sew all and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread or silk directly from the spool and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin with rapidity and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle—curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to blind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off at seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general sale of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

APOSTROPHE TO COL. E. D. BAKER.

BY S. B. ROCKWELL.

Thy mission is o'er, life's battles are ended,
A nation now mourns thee in sadness and grief;
The cause which thou loved and bravely defended,
Is reft of a gallant and patriot chief:
And the tongue that so warmly plead for the slave,
Lies mute in the cell of its "Lone Mountain grave."*

Strong as a lion, as swift as an eagle,
As dauntless, as brave as Cæsar of old:
True to thy trust, as the mystical needle,
Unmoved or unbought by bludgeons or gold:
On the field, in the forum, at whatever post,
Thy skill was a match for a treacherous host.

When blear-eyed treason strove forth from his lair,
Muttering curses and vengeance, my country on thee,
Thy voice rose aloft on the tremulous air,
Inviting, inspiring the hearts of the free,
To come to the rescue, like Briton or Gaul,
And drive the base monster back to the wall.

Thy clarion voice and silver tipt tongue
Stirred city and town and mountain and glen—
Moved Senates and States, while breathless they hung
On thy lips, as one of the greatest of men.
The tribute be thine of a nation in tears,
Unceasing, increasing in measure of years.

When fear rul'd the hour, and cowering shame
Bound thousands in shackles of menaring fear—
When each sought to find in the other some blame,
As war shook his locks, all gory and drear—
While all were appalled and standing aghast,
Thy words cheered the hosts as they rode on the blast.

As the gath'ring war-clouds rose lurid and dun,
Threat'ning ruin and death to thine and to thee—
When fear stalk'd a spectre in every home,
From the lakes to the gulf, from mountain to sea,
Thou didst fling to the breeze the banner unfurled,
Defiant of crime, though in arms by a world!

When foul-handed treason, defiant and bold,
Clutch'd fiercely the altars of Freedom and Law—
Stole arsenals and forts, munitions and gold,
On purpose to gorge his ravenous maw:
Not counting the life dear, but rejecting the lie,
Thou rushed to the conflict to conquer or die!

O! beautiful thought—that 'tis not all of life
To live—though one lives out his three score and ten.
That life is the longest when leagued in the strife,
Which strikes down the basest and blackest of men
Though thou fell in thy prime, bereft of thy years,
We'll count thy life long, and embalm it in tears.

As Allen, and Lawrence, and Warren of yore,
Still live in their deeds, so persuasive, sublime,
Inspiring true valor, as never before,
An offering to freedom, in all coming time:
So with thee shall it prove—Lo! now doth appear,
Though dead, yet thou speakest—though gone thou art here!

Lo: the low moaning winds chant thy funeral dirge,
And the sea with its surf chime thy requiem, too;
Let thy name live in song to time's farthest verge,
And thy deeds and thy name be mirrored to view,
As an orator, statesman, hero—and then
As a friend to the poor—crown jewel of men.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 25, 1861.

Freezing Over.

We looked out upon the bright, sparkling lake—its cold waters were struggling with the icy web around the shore. The bright silver waves glittered in the sun and chased each other in summer gleefulness till they met the sad gaze of their dying companions, when, as if a sense of danger swept over them, they hastily retreated towards the centre of the lake. But the iceking was not to be despoiled of his prey, or foiled in his work of desolation. What cared he for the playfulness of the waves? He had power to bind them in his chilling fetters, and he would do it. So calling a little drop to his side, he threw his icy arms around her, breathed his freezing breath into her face, till she became cold and hard as stone, impassionless as her enchanter. Thus, one by one, did he seize and chill his victims, till the whole lake presented nothing but a cold dreary waste, wrapped in a frozen winding-sheet.

So have we seen the young, the beautiful, the thoughtless, snared by the enchanter. So have we seen the best affections of the confiding heart frozen over by coldness and neglect. So have we seen the highest joys of youth blasted; the highest and purest hopes of mature life crushed out by the relentless hand of him who bore the name of Husband and Father.

Crushed out to gratify the passions of envy and revenge; crushed out that petty tyranny might have something to feed upon; crushed out that self and will might reign supreme upon a throne of ruined hopes and frozen love! Fit throne for such a coward monarch!

Freezing over is written upon many a soul, and the sparkling gems grow dimmer, and the warm currents sink deeper as the cold net-work thickens around the heart; and feebler and feebler are its pulsations till the struggling, dying flame goes out—frozen over!

Oh, what an icy bridge is this for man to travel on, o'er the stream of time! When will the fires of love melt the chains of tyranny and set every captive free?—Cor. Boston Cultivator.

☞ In a large school there were two teachers by the name of Mill. One was bland and forbearing, seldom or never having recourse to the exercise of discipline in its roughest form. The other was firm, hasty and an upholder of the rights of the rod. The difference was soon noted by the boys, and the two were appropriately known as the flour Mill, and the thrashing Mill.

☞ When Haddiz's wife kicked him out of bed one cold night, says he: "See here, now! you'd better not do that again; if you do, it might cause a coolness."

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a sure and speedy relief in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., in all its stages, Gleets, Stricture, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Limbs, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Tetter, Piles, Fistula, Erysipelas, Female Complaints, Epilepsy or Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the Sexual Organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, Universal Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Lassitude upon the Limbs, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities, &c., &c., and all impurities of the Blood, whether arising from Indiscretion or Exposure in either sex, or from the Destructive Habits of Youth, or the Solitary Vice, which annually hurries to premature graves thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have enjoyed life to the most extended period allotted to man. It matters not from what cause you may be suffering or debilitated, whether you are single or married, if you are in any way afflicted with any of the above diseases, you should consult the skilful physician at once, and be restored to perfect health. Those who have been under the treatment of other physicians for many years, and have been unsuccessful in obtaining relief, will find it to their advantage to consult Dr. C., as he has had more experience in the treatment of Chronic and Private Diseases than any other physician on the Pacific Coast. Many cases that have been pronounced incurable by other physicians have been restored to perfect health by Dr. C.

Ladies and Gentlemen troubled with pimples on the face, blotches on the body, or any disease arising from impurity of the blood, should not fail to call on Dr. C. Thousands have been cured by him who had been given up by other physicians as incurable. Dr. C. has discovered a certain remedy for all those painful and delicate diseases peculiar to females, which never fails to effect a cure in a few days, without the least exposure or change in diet, and without the use of nauseous drugs. Ladies who are afflicted with irregularities, or any obstruction whatever, should not delay a moment, but call immediately and be cured. Dr. C. has cured thousands of cases of the above diseases that had been given up by other physicians as incurable, who have since married and raised families of children, who are now living witnesses of the skill of Dr. C. Many persons who are troubled with seminal emissions, the result of self-abuse, are not aware of the ruin they are bringing upon themselves by indulging in this destructive habit. Nightly pollutions, which many are troubled with, are generally the result of this habit, and those who are troubled with them cannot be restored to perfect health until they are cured. Many persons who are troubled with seminal weakness, caused by self-abuse, imagine they have consumption, and call upon physicians who, not understanding their case, tell them they have consumption, and they die under the treatment, when, if they had called upon Dr. C., he would have restored them to perfect health. Dr. C. has had more experience in the treatment of Chronic and Private Diseases than any other physician on the Pacific Coast, and can refer to thousands of cases he has cured in a few days, who had been given up by other physicians as incurable. Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificate of one of the soldiers from the Pacific coast, who has been honorably discharged from the service of the United States, and returned to his home in Oregon, after having been given up by the physicians in Europe as incurable. perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon them, dreary wreaths of fire, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but, alas! after a few weeks, and in several instances, months of their treatment, I found, to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief my symptoms became alarming in their intensity; and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy; and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, by examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in the head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to his directions and advice, my head became clear, and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins in a few weeks of my illness, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the melancholy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the fickleness to study, and want of resolution, the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With a view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of unscrupulous quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured in my own experience, that if under his care, a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the medicine, and do not think I shall need any more, except that I have not enlarged nerve sufficiently yet, but seem well with the exception of that. It is quite three weeks, you may recollect, since I called on you with my constitution as I thought, broken up, and never thought I would be able to carry on the right side to do something for my back and head and strengthen it. I would tremble at the slightest noise, and now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my surprise to find myself recovering from the effects of the mercury, the sores and blotches from my throat, and the suffering part of the nerves, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can truly tell you which is the fact, I never felt as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you my charges, which you will please favor me by an early return. If you think anybody will be benefited by my case, you are at liberty to publish this letter in the newspapers. I remain, dear Doctor, gratefully yours,

THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

Prompted by an honest desire of my heart to be the means of saving others from the pain which I endured, and only as a debt which I owe to skill, but that of Dr. Czapkay, I consider it my duty to make the following statement: About two years since, I suddenly, and from no cause with which I am acquainted, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, in my usual health. I sent for a physician, and he pronounced it a case of spasms, and gave me medicine, which relieved me in a few days. I then resumed my business, but was soon seized with another fit, more severe than the first, and which left me entirely helpless. I was confined to my bed for three months, during which time I had the attendance of two physicians, who gave me medicine, but I grew worse instead of better. I then concluded to consult Dr. Czapkay, and I am happy to say that I am entirely restored to health, and am able to attend to my business. I would say to all afflicted with any disease, that they cannot do better than to consult Dr. Czapkay, as I am satisfied that he is a skilful physician, and a gentleman in his profession.
